1. Contributors retain their Copyright. However, WaterHill Publishing distributes its publications throughout the world and wants to ensure that your work is properly available for general dissemination to the readership without restrictions. For that purpose, you (the contributor(s)) agree to give WaterHill Publishing worldwide rights to publish and distribute your work, in full or in part, for the whole duration of the Copyright, in any form and media expressions (including print, video, sound, electronic or hardcopy, online or in other forms or media now known or developed in the future) without payment of royalties.
2. You (the contributor(s)) accept that no royalty payment will be made to you for this work. WaterHill is a volunteer-run, independent, and non-profit publisher that will, at its discretion and if sales are sufficient to cover its operating, development, and publishing costs, distribute profits equally among contributors (profit distribution is usually only applicable for publication in our journal CrossBridge).
3. You (the contributor(s)) agree that no free contributor's copy will be provided to you by the publisher, but the publisher will endeavor to make the book available at a lower price for a limited time before it is officially launched so that contributors may purchase copies if they wish to.
4. You (the contributor(s)) furthermore warrant that:
  - a. you are the author or co-author of the work;
  - b. no proprietary rights, trademarks or copyrights have been violated;
  - c. if this work has been published elsewhere previously, publishing in this book does not infringe copyright or other agreements made with previous publishers.
  - d. all text from other sources has been properly quoted and acknowledged, and all applicable references listed;
  - e. you have obtained necessary permissions for any copyrighted material such as images, photographs, etc. and sources/permissions are acknowledged in the work;
  - f. dissemination of the work is not subjected to any restriction related to its disclosure by your employer or other parties;
  - g. you are solely responsible for any legal cost or financial penalties arising from opinions stated in your work as well as copyright, trademark or intellectual property infringement by your work.
